Spiritual Objectives

At the end of the cell discussion, cell members will:

1. Examine what defiles or distracts us from getting closer to God
2. Resolve to consecrate ourselves to overcome and master sin.

Word [45 min]

Following on in this series on Living for God 24/7, Ps Joachim cited Leviticus 20:7-8 as God's command for His people to live a "set apart" lifestyle that honours Him. We are to keep His decrees and follow them. God, who is holy, will keep us holy. In 1 Peter 1:13-16, we are called to be alert and sober. We are not to be conformed to the evil desires we had when we lived in ignorance of God's love, grace and power. Living this consecrated lifestyle, we must not take sin lightly. Instead, we should aspire to live a set-apart and holy lifestyle.

In Daniel 1:3-8, even though Daniel was exiled far away from home and subject to pressures and temptations to have food and wine in ways contrary to God has instructed in the Scriptures, he resolved in his heart not to defile himself with the king's food and wine. In Hebrew, to "resolve" means to determine, to lay down, to establish and act on a decision. It also means to plan and exert courage and the will. This is the first step towards a holy lifestyle.

Daniel resolved not to defile himself. He kept himself "clean" as God has instructed in the Scriptures by not touching anything unclean. What does this mean for us today? Ps Joachim listed a few pointers: we are to resolve to refrain from sin, idolatry and sexual immorality. In essence, what leads to defilement should not be present in our lives. We are reminded that our bodies are temples of the Holy Spirit and we must use our bodies to honour God - see 1 Corinthians 6:18-20. Ps Joachim shared on the possible defilement that can come from popular entertainment and his personal journey and the lengths he went to stay away from defilement. He challenged us to examine what is defiling us and resolve not to compromise in our daily living. We should seek to worship God instead before and when we feel tempted. In Daniel 1:12-16, Daniel chose to be tested for the sake of following God's decrees. Daniel fasted to be set apart and consecrated for the Lord. This is an act of wholehearted worship. Daniel's mind was set on the things of God and not on what others think or the things of this world.

Why is consecration or being set apart so important? This is because the holiness of God demands it - see 1 Peter 1:15-16. Therefore, if we want to be of use to God and His kingdom, we must consecrate ourselves for His purpose (see Exodus 29:44). We want to be led by the Holy Spirit, not be controlled by the devil. We can be sure that we are led by the Holy Spirit by constantly seeking to hear from God and to follow Him as our master.

In Isaiah 7:9, we are called to stand firm in our faith. If we do not, we will not stand at all. Fasting from what distracts us from God and from what that can potentially defile us will build our faith and equip us to win the spiritual battles in our lives.

Discussion Questions

1. Read Daniel 1:3-8. Observe and highlight the difficulties that Daniel would face in not conforming to the king's instructions. [10 min]
2. Being defiled can mean a lot of different things in the Bible (some were shared by Ps Joachim) but the underlying theme is that it is against God, that is, it is sinful. Distractions, on the other hand, are not in themselves sinful, but they have the potential to cause us to stray away from worshipping God. Therefore, we must be aware of these in our lives as we resolve to get closer to God. Reflect on what these are in your daily living and share. [15 min]
3. Discuss on what you can do differently in 2017 to overcome the distractions and/or defilement shared in the response to question 2. [15 min]

Works [10 min]

Let's pray:

1. We will take time to examine what is defiling us and resolve not to compromise in our daily living but set apart and consecrated for the Lord.
